

Joseph Andzie - 16 yrs 23rd April 2010
My Self

My name is Joseph Andzie and I'm a boy of 16 years. I am 150cm tall and also fair in complexion by which foot ball is my favourite game. My birth day is on the 23rd of March 1994.

I have completed the basic school and will like to go to Senior high school to continue my education which will enable me to become what I want to do in future.

When I go to SHS, I will acquire more knowledge and skills in life and also I will be very discipline and responsible in my future career.

Since I am a child, I have been dreaming of becoming a Social Studies teacher in future which will give me the opportunity to teach students to understand our social life and also I will get a good salary of becoming a teacher.

So far I have studied Social studies, Science, Home Economics, Mathematics, Akanian language and English Language which all teaches us how to live meaningfully in the society so educational sponsorship is very good for me because it will help me to continue my education to reach to the highest point and also it will enable me to study hard at school.
